Description of Duties
i. Provide technical support for training, supervision and implementation of RNTCP according to policies of the Government of India; ii. Assist in training, supervision and implementation of RNTCP. Work with state- and district-level officers to establish good practices of intensive supervision in the initial stage RNTCP implementation. Inspect and cross-check DTC, TU, microscopy centre, and PHI records and evaluate these against objective performance through review of slides, interviews with patients and staff, etc. Establish systems which will facilitate monitoring of the programme at the district, state, regional, and national levels; iii. Supervise RNTCP implementation in conjunction with project staff. Personally investigate cases of treatment failure, default, death, and relapse in selected cases to determine causes and implications for improvement of programme implementation. Participate in preparation for Appraisal and in Appraisal Teams as assigned. iv. Specifically, peripheral institutions within districts are to be visited at least monthly during the first six months of RNTCP implementation and at least quarterly for the next year thereafter. Each TB Unit (including all microscopy centres and a sample of other PHIs and DOTS centres) within the District are to be visited at least once per quarter initially and once in six months thereafter. PHIs not meeting the performance indicator criteria will be visited more frequently. v. Identify problems in logistics and identify solutions at local level or state level, or report back to State Government and Central TB Division for solution. vi. Assist in ensuring coordination among government and non-government sectors including involvement of non-governmental organizations (NGOs) and private physicians; vii. Assist in communicating up-to-date information on programme implementation and feedback on policy implementation. This includes ensuring accurate and timely quarterly programme and financial rep
Summarize any of Your Achievements
Not only have I been able to add value to the entire programme in the State of West Bengal , through regular feedbacks and well intended communication channels that I could build over all these years so that the programme could be owned by the state , but I have also helped in ensuring that decisions both at the local level and the state level after proper analysis of the parameters and the quality of the reporting. Technically I have helped them be clear with the route map of enhancing the role of private providers and NGO s in the community based interactive faces of tuberculosis control , without jeopardising the programme guidelines. The involvement of the unorganised sector in the industrial units through ESI (employment Insurance -Medical benefit scheme) and the Coal Sector in the colliery belts of Eastern India was an accomplishment that I am truly proud of .It was difficult in initiating any kind of response in these sectors .Living conditions , wages , insurance inputs , medical leaves , and other small genuine problems were all taken into account and then a blue print had been worked out for the benefit of their people .The secretaries and the ministers had to come together in the same platform and forge the necessary documentations required for the commitment which could ensure quality delivery of the RNTCP services in these sectors .Both these sectors had a high incidence of pneumoconiosis , and other occupational lung disorders , but they were two different poles from point of system , and administration .Running around and a constant stream of well meant suggestions and help from my superiors helped in creating a milieu where we could start implementing and consolidating the TB control programme along the proper guidelines. I was concerned more regarding the HIV angle in the colliery belts of the industrial units of Asansol and Durgapur. Other places having the welding factories and jute mills in Howrah and Hooghly districts of West Bengal. But a moment of triumph I felt when I could help the district of East Midnapore achieve a new smear positive case detection rate of 54/lac (the expected) by 2006 .I was given this district as it was one of the worst performing (RNTCP) districts not only in the entire country of India but also in the whole of South east Asia. I was given the charge of this district in January 2005 .Every help I could get , I did but not without a lot of struggle and firefighting inside .It has been all a exhilarating experience after all!

Description of Duties
Joined Thermal Power Project as a Medical Officer in its inception. Started Health Service Delivery from a tiny health unit as there were no health services available in the vicinity. Started OPDs, and allowed patients outside the ambience of the Corporation on nominal fees. Arranged for consultations of senior medical professionals on sharing basis. Brought junior doctors, gave them lebensraum so that they can have hands-on clinical exposure and can use hospitals' well-stocked libraries to pursue their higher academic goals. Arranged pathologist to train local paramedics in laboratory work. Evolved this tiny health unit into a bedded referral hospital that caters to a population of one million. This health unit spawned a profusion of local laboratories operated by trained technicians offering assorted services . Developed a NGO where child labours family were given financial assistance so that they can be enrolled in the NGO run school . (It failed as after initial enhancement in school attendance rates fewer than 10% of the newly enrolled children left their jobs). This hospital participated in every national health program in terms of man power and infra structure. In national Polio Surveillance Programme it was a key health facility in maintaining the cold-chain

Summarize any of Your Achievements I provided medical/medical services to patients on a daily basis and as a result fewer non-urgent cases were referred to higher level facilities. I participated in the establishment of a new medical building by giving advice to the engineering section regarding medical concerns during the construction. I wrote the requirements for the climate control system and the medical gas management system for the new operating room. I coordinated with the medical supply officer to procure medical equipment, supplies and medicines for the enhanced Level 1 facility. I took part in the recruitment of the anesthesiologist, associate pharmacist, chief nurse, anesthesia nurse and the operating room nurse. I coordinated with other medical staff for the proper functioning of clinic. Aside from attending local trainings I attended a training/workshop on Definitive Surgical Trauma Care in Singapore through the No-expense training program. The course was very intensive and included surgical trauma management training. I also provided training on avian influenza for regular staff and induction training for new staff. I also attended the aeromed-evac training including Advanced Cardiac Life Support and Advanced Trauma Life Support training. I also had the distinct opportunity to act as the Officer-in-charge of the medical section in the absence of the Chief Medical Officer.
